A friend of Alyssa Dionne (28 and an account manager at a technology consulting firm) thought she'd hit it off with Bryan Johnson (32 and a senior manager at a financial consulting firm). She was right! After a night out with mutual friends, Bryan called Alyssa to set up a Friday-night date. Three-and-a-half years later, Bryan planned a getaway at a mansion overlooking Lake Champlain. After they arrived, Bryan suggested they walk down to the estate's flower garden. That's where Bryan got down on one knee and popped the question. The couple immediately started planning their Boston wedding with a fall color palette of red, brown and ivory. They also paid tribute to the city where they met and live by highlighting local food and landmarks. —CM
