

Directions by Boat

Upon entering the east passage of Narragansett Bay from the sea, you will leave Castle Hill Lighthouse to starboard and Beavertail Lighthouse (located on the southern tip of Conanicut Island), to your port.

Heading north towards the Newport Bridge up the east passage, you will see Fort Adams to starboard and the house on the rock known as Clingstone to your port.

Passing between the two, heading north, and immediately after you leave Fort Adams is the Newport Harbor entrance to starboard.

Continue on a northerly course towards the Newport Bridge. Immediately after you leave the Newport Harbor entrance to starboard is Goat Island. About halfway up the short coastline of Goat Island, you will see the white buildings of Belle Mer. Belle Mer overlooks the Newport bridge to the north, Narragansett bay and quaint village of Jamestown to the west, and Clingstone and Fort Adams to the south.

Both, Goat Island Marina, tucked in behind Belle Mer, and Newport Shipyard, across the causeway, offer slips for your Lady for the day and/or night. They can be reached at 401.849.5655 and 401.846.6000 respectively, or on channel 16.
