

just
married

chandra & ted OCTOBER 24, BROOKLINE

INGREDIENTS
Photography by Connie Miller/Studio Atticus in Arlington at Our Lady Help of Christians Parish in Newton and Veronique Ballroom; flowers by Lyndsey Loring Design in Dover, NH; cake by Veronique Ballroom

The only reason it took Chandra Willard (27 and a graphic designer) and Ted Wroblewski (27 and a consultant) so long to get together was because Chandra kept moving! The pair met during their freshman year at George Washington University in Washington, DC, and the connection was clear. The only problem: Chandra was planning to transfer to Boston University. For the next three years, they kept in touch over Instant Messenger until Chandra returned to DC to see her college friends (and Ted). Sparks flew again—just in time for her to study abroad in London. Ted went to see her overseas, and they made it official. Five years later, he surprised Chandra with a romantic hotel room and a scrapbook of their relationship, the last page of which said, “Will you marry me?” Their wedding, with an orange and gold color scheme, included a graphic of their silhouettes. —CM